The Japanese Journal of Tomography will be published online only after April 2010.

1. The manuscript should be prepared according to a following style:

Page format should be 80 characters/line, 40 lines/page. It must be typed with 10-point characters.

1) Title page: Title of the paper, name(s) of author(s), affiliation of the author(s) and contact address of the principal author.

2) Abstract: Abstract must be concise yet informative clearly describing your purpose, materials and methods used, and conclusion reached. It must not contain figures, tables and references.

3) Text

4) References: References must be numbered sequentially as they appear in the text. All authors must be indicated if the number of the authors is less than or equal to 3. Only the first three authors should be indicated followed by “et al” if the number of the authors are greater than 3.

Style of quotation is, for example:

1. Jones JK, George HE, Linus OR, et al: The title of a paper in a journal is here. Name of the journal abbreviated as defined by MEDLINE volume number; year of publication: starting page - ending page.

2. Jones JK, George HE, Linus OR, et al: The title of a paper in a book is here, In eds. Names of the editors up to 3, title of the book, edition number, name of the publisher, city of the publisher, year of publication, starting page - ending page.

5) Tables and legends

6) Figures and legends: The total number of the tables and figures must be no greater than 10. Figures should be submitted as black-and-white images.

Each section should begin with a new page. Title page, abstract, text, references, tables, table captions and figure legends must be grouped into one electronic file. Page limit of the file is 5 pages. File type of the manuscript must be a common type, such as text (.txt), rich text file (.rtf), Microsoft word document (.doc), or portable document file (.pdf).

Figures must also be submitted electronically as separate files from the manuscript. File types are JPEG, TIFF, or BMP files.

Limits of the number of tables and figures may be exceeded if the manuscript is judged to be worth exceeding the limits by referees.

4. TomoGraphics (Registered trademark. Unauthorized use is prohibited)

Manuscripts must be prepared as following. Each section must begin with a header followed by colon.

- 1) Title: Your title here
